Report of the ICSSR sponsored One day National Level Conference on CLIMATE CHANGE AND AGRICULTURAL CRISIS IN MAHARASHTRA

Organized by

Dept. of Geography,

Vasundhara College, Ghatnandur

[Held on 20 sept. 2017 (Wed)]

Introduction:

Climate change is an important factor of agricultural productivity as well as lives of the farmers. For this we need to understand the geographical and climatic situation of Maharashtra. As high as 80% to 84% of the agriculture in Maharashtra is rainfed, which means that it totally depends on rainfall for its crops but there is a huge variability in rainfall in different regions of the state. Particular nature of agricultural development mainly depends on the natural phenomena and their effective environment, socio, economic, political dimensions structural situation, and the regional institutional set-up, which are varying over geographical area.

With the wide intension and to contemplate on the important issues of climate change and its effects on the agricultural productivity as well as the crisis of the existence of the farmers, Taking into consideration all these critical conditions Dept. of Geography Vasudhara College is organized on ICSSR Mumbai sponsored one day national level conference on "CLIMATE CHANGE AND AGRICULTURAL CRISIS IN MAHARASHTRA" held on 20 sept. 2017, at Ghatnandur Tq. Ambajogai, Dist. Beed, Pin. 431519
